The enumeration of the pupils in the various institutions for the education of the blind in the United States for the year ending June 30, 1905, gave 4,422 pupils. The quota for each pupil is $2.26+

The following tables show the number of pupils in each institution, and how much has been distributed to each institution under the provisions of the act of Congress, approved March 3, 1879, entitled "An Act to Promote the Education of the Blind," by which the American Printing House for the Blind receives $10,000 annually.

The New York Institution for the Blind has, as usual, used its quota under the direction of Mr. Wait in preparing and publishing music in point notation.

The Society for Providing Evangelical Religious Literature for the Blind has affiliated with the American Tract Society, and the address of its Secretary is Rev. James D. Steele, D. D., New York, N. Y., in care of the American Tract Society. Owing to the difficulty in raising funds, the edition of the Sunday-school Weekly in the Line Letter has been given up. The edition in New York Point will be continued.

The year has been marked by the death of Mr. H. L. Hall, and the local board caused the following entry to be made in their records:

In Memoriam.

On the occasion of the passing from this life of Hinman L. Hall, at Philadelphia on the 22d of January, 1905, the Board of Trustees of the American Printing House for the Blind desire to place on record, not only their admiration for his lofty Christian virtues, but their appreciation of his remarkable achievements for the blind in general, and especially for his services rendered to the American Printing House for the Blind.

In early manhood, at the very opening of a most promising career, he was suddenly, by the result of accident, deprived of sight. After several years of trial and experience, he was moved to make an effort in behalf of the blind of the United States, and aided in establishing, at Philadelphia, the National Association for Printing for the Blind. In 1871, this Association united with the American Printing House for the Blind, and Mr. Hall took up his labors for this organization. He secured from various State legislatures special appropriations for the American Printing House for the Blind, and was an urgent advocate for every appliance that would make its work more efficient. He suggested the purchase of a steam engine, and thus our press was the first printing press for the blind in the world run by power, other than that of manual labor.

In 1874, largely through his efforts, was established, in Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania Working Home for Blind Men; and Mr. Hall was appointed to take charge of it (in which work he continued till his death). Under his excellent management it has become the largest and most successful institution of its kind in the world, giving permanent employment to hundreds of the adult blind.

From this time on, at his own request, he received no pecuniary compensation from the American Printing House for the Blind; but his labors of love in its behalf were none the less effective. By his personal efforts in Washington, with Congressional committees and members of the Senate and House, he contributed much to the passage of the bill endowing the American Printing House for the Blind with a fund of $250,000, thus putting the beneficence of printing for the blind on a permanent basis.

In 1879 he secured the establishment of the Society for Printing Evangelical Religious Literature for the Blind, which has raised and expended for the purpose, through the American Printing House for the Blind, over seventy-five thousand dollars, circulating, free, thousands of volumes of the best religious thought, and printing the International Sunday-school Lessons weekly for nearly thirty years, comprising almost all that has been done for the religious education of the blind in this country. Bearing his sheaves with him, he has passed on to a higher life; and our hearts are filled with gratitude for this example of a noble Christian life, superior to adversity; and, though blind, seeing his way to usefulness, happiness, and prosperity.

To his mourning daughters we offer our tenderest sympathy.

The New York State Library has continued its great benefaction by contributing several works of great interest, which will be found specified on another page.

From Miss Nina Rhoades has been received the money for printing an edition of "The Golden Age."

All of which is respectfully submitted.
